Re: Prevue Assessment

We started utilizing the Prevue Assessment 3 years ago as a tool to help us assess the suitability of different candidates for certain key positions in the company. We also had Dan Monteiro interview the candidates to assist us in our selection process and in the interpretation of the results of the assessment. We were amazed at the accuracy of the assessment in determining the personal traits of the candidates.

As a result, we have been extremely successful with the candidates that we promoted or hired. The candidates were also very impressed with the assessment and quite enjoyed the process and the insight they garnished about themselves.

During this process, we also had the management team go through the Prevue Assessment. This provided valuable insight to our management team in understanding how they relate to their employees. As a result, they were more effective in coaching their employees as they each were able to understand how best to complement each other given their personality traits. This allowed higher level discussions, minimize frustrations and promoted communication.

Recently, we had introduced an apprenticeship program to attract candidates into our industry. We had purchased the Prevue Assessment to assist us in selecting the candidates. We believe the initial investment will save us money in the long run by ensuring that we invest in the most suitable candidate.

We highly recommend Prevue Assessment to any company or industry that is considering it. In light of labour shortages and the lack of suitable candidates, we are so pleased that we have Catalyst Training as a trade partner to assist us.

Yours truly,
